

Van Bledsoe

Van Bledsoe is the Ministerial Director, Evangelism Coordinator, and ASI Representative for the Arizona Conference.

Pastor Bledsoe was a student at Thunderbird Adventist Academy for all four years. He also graduated from Southern Adventist university where he did his ministerial studies. After Southern he attended Andrews University Seminary and later received a Master of Counseling degree from the University of Phoenix.

Pastor Bledsoe started his ministry in the Gulf States Conference where he pastored a three-church district in Mississippi for four years. He moved to Arizona in 1989 and was the associate pastor at the Glendale church for eight years. He then pastored the Tempe church for nine years and then pastored the Apache Junction church for 16 years. He became the Ministerial Director in July of 2022.

Van has been married to Carolina since 1998. His marriage to Carolina required several trips to Peru to meet her and her son Marino before marrying her and bringing her and Marino to Arizona in September of 1998.

Van enjoys playing golf when he gets a chance. He also enjoys supporting the local Arizona teams the sun's, the Diamondbacks, and the Cardinals, but he has been a lifelong fan of the Dallas Cowboys.

His deepest desire is to be like the apostle Paul and know nothing but Christ and him crucified and to lift up Jesus in everything that he does.
