

Kris Stevenson

AZ Conference Planned Giving and Trust Services Director
(as of Mar 12, 2025)

Kris Coffin Stevenson is living the first part of her eternal life with her pastor husband in Tucson, Arizona. Kris's 40 years of ministry includes high school teaching, magazine editing, freelance writing, pastoring, speaking, legal editing, and authoring four books. She is the director of the Planned Giving & Trust Services department at the Arizona Conference of Seventh-day Adventists. Her passions include traveling, reading, her grandson, and learning more every day about how Jesus lived the unselfish life.

Kris is available to speak on subjects such as the generous God, prayer, and living the unselfish life.

Contact Info :

kstevenson@azconference.org

Preferred language:

English

